

ST. ANN'S-ANDALUSIA PLAY SCORELESS TIE IN ANNUAL CONTEST

Both Elevens Dangerous At All Times; Each Waiting For A "Break"

'SAINTS', 14 FIRST DOWNS

Andalusia Scores Seven First Downs and Completes One Pass

ANDALUSIA, Nov. 7.—A light drizzle and a wet field failed to prevent the St. Ann's A. A. team and the Andalusia Green Wave from continuing their rivalry yesterday afternoon on Mitchell's field, Andalusia, but after four quarters of rolling around in the mud, there was no victor, for the game ended in a scoreless stalemate.

Both elevens were dangerous at all times, and each was waiting for the "break" which would have given them a triumph. The Green Wave failed to capitalize on their only break in the second period when Caucei fumbled a punt which was recovered by the Diamantians on the St. Ann's 25. But they failed in four tries.

In the number of first downs the boys coached by "Bill" Dougherty outplayed their rivals, registering a total of 14 first downs, nine of these coming in the second half. Andalusia had seven firsts, four in the first half and three in the second. St. Ann's completed two passes (both of which were called completed by the officials for alleged blocking) and Andalusia completed one.

The best scoring opportunity for the "Saints" took place in the opening of the third period. The "Saints" received the kickoff and Conti was downed on the 11-yard line. On the first play, "Sammy" Smith on a reverse play broke loose and scampered 45 yards before he was tackled and after being hit he latteredally to Proffy who went 10 more before being downed. Immediately following this, Evans got off on an off-tackle play and before he was downed by the Andalusia safety man on the nine-yard line.

Eighty yards on two plays and nine to go for a touchdown. Conti hit the line for two yards to bring it to the seven. But here Andalusia braced. A scoring play was a failure and the runner lost 10 yards. Another end run was called. Another end run.

Attractive Wedding In St. Ann's Church

The wedding of Miss Laura Sozio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgilio Sozio, 415 Washington street, and John Wheeler, 640 Corson street, took place Saturday at three p. m., in St. Ann's Catholic Church. The Rev. Peter Pinci, rector of the church, officiated; and Miss Frances Tamburella played the wedding march. Miss Mary Mancini, Pond street, sang "The Rosary."

The bride was attended by Miss Leonella Clotti, Jefferson avenue, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Jovite Minni, Washington street. Serving the groom as best man was Almerindo Sozio, brother of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was gowned in white slipper satin, fashioned with a form-fitting bodice, high neckline trimmed with a small cluster of orange blossoms, short puffed sleeves and long skirt with a train. The bridal veil of tulle with face veil had a tulle crown with a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore white satin mits, satin gauds and carried white lilies.

Miss Clotti was attractive in a taffeta gown in duobonnet tone. The dress featured the sweetheart shaped neckline, short puffed sleeves, form-fitting bodice and long full skirt with hoops. Duobonnet velvet bows trimmed the dress, one on the left shoulder and three on the skirt. Her velvet hat, bonnet style, had velvet streamers which tied under her chin, and she wore satin slippers to match her dress, and carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses.

Miss Minni was attired in peacock blue taffeta fashioned like that of the maid of honor. Her hat and slippers were duobonnet velvet and she carried red roses.

A reception was held in Mutual Aid Hall, 300 guests attending. The couple left Saturday evening for Washington, D. C., where they are spending a few days. The bride wore as her travelling costume a duobonnet crepe dress, felt hat, kid slippers and gloves, and a black coat. The couple will make their home with the groom's parents.

The bride's gift to her attendants were satin house-coats.

BE SURE TO VOTE!

VOTE FOR JAMES: VOTE REPUBLICAN!

Philadelphia Inquirer, November 7, 1938

MEN AND WOMEN OF PENNSYLVANIA: NOW IT IS UP TO YOU!

Today the campaign ends; tomorrow you will say it with votes; you will decide whether Pennsylvania is to go forward with Arthur H. James as Governor or backward with Charles Alvin Jones.

What kind of Governor and Government your State is to have during the next four years is of vital importance to every Pennsylvanian. It is your personal responsibility to do your part in bringing about the election of a Governor who can and will restore prosperity.

FIRST OF ALL, MAKE SURE THAT YOU VOTE! All your wishes for honest and efficient government at Harrisburg, for an end to the scandals of Democratic misrule, for re-employment of those forced from their jobs into poverty, mean absolutely nothing unless you translate them into votes. All the talk in the world won't mark one X on the ballot.

In the last gubernatorial election more than 1,000,000 registered voters failed to cast their ballots. In last spring's primary 1,200,000 enrolled Republicans and Democrats took no part in the voting.

Stay-at-home voters have no one to blame but themselves when government is not to their liking, when public officials whom they did not bother to vote against betray the people's trust.

SO VOTE TOMORROW! AND VOTE REPUBLICAN!

By voting for Arthur H. James and the Republican ticket you will vote for better times for Pennsylvania, for security and better living for yourselves and your families.

You will vote for revived prosperity, with factories and mills and collieries reopening, with steady jobs at good wages made available for the army of workers whom the Democrats have chained to the dole.

You will vote for non-political relief, with the needy guaranteed public aid with no strings attached, with no intimidation, no macing, no tributes exacted by partisan Simon Legrees.

YOU WILL VOTE FOR TAX REDUCTION. You will vote for competent administration of your State's business.

By voting for James and against Me-Too Jones you will vote against John L. Lewis, you will smash to bits his scheme to control a puppet Governor with the club of the C.I.O.

YOU WILL VOTE AGAINST THE COMMUNISTS WHO HAVE TATTOOED THE HAMMER AND SICKLE UPON THE CANDIDACY OF CHARLES ALVIN JONES.

You will vote against back-room dictatorship governing Pennsylvania through a board of directors composed of John L. Lewis, Matt McCloskey, Albert Greenfield and Boss Guffey.

You will vote against continuance of George H. Earle's rule of ruin that has sown the seeds of want and destitution through your fair State.

You will vote against more and bigger taxes, against increases in the present State taxes, against the addition of any others, including a sales tax and a tax on incomes—pet tax of the Democrats.

YOU WILL VOTE AGAINST POLITICAL OPPRESSION OF THE POOR.

You will vote against shortsighted economic policies that have closed factories, that have driven workers on relief, that have dried up the sources of employment.

James and his constructive program represent hope for Pennsylvanians. James as Governor holds out assurance of better conditions.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Copyright, 1938, by The Baltimore Sun)

Tuesday's Elections

FOR two years things have been accumulating to make the elections on Tuesday important. For one thing, they afford the voters of the country their first real chance to express themselves since the great Roosevelt sweep of 1936; for another, though there are no national candidates there are national issues, and in the larger States, outside the deep South, the results will have a direct bearing upon the Presidential campaign of 1940 as well as upon the session of Congress which begins in January.

BY his letters, speeches and statements; by the activity of his aides; by the extent to which the Federal relief organization has been used, and by his own unreasoning versatility in indorsing in one State—California—the soft-headed "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" Mr. Downey as "a liberal in mind and heart" and in another—New Jersey—the creature of the hard-boiled Mr. Hague, whom no stretch of the imagination could make look like a liberal—by these and other things, Mr. Roosevelt has so completely injected himself into this off-year campaign as to take away in most debatable States the local character of the contest. That every ounce of the White House weight and every asset of the Administration has been thrown into the fight is convincing proof of the New Deal belief that the outcome will color the whole political picture of the future.

IT IS, of course, possible that the returns may give both sides equal reason for congratulation. They may leave neither with clear ground for a general victory claim and thus be devoid of national significance. But that isn't likely. There is a far stronger probability that one way or another a definite state of mind will be disclosed in

STRONG AND ABLE MINDS WILL MEAN LESS CRIME

Fifth of Series of Essays Written for Nat'l Education Week By High School Students

WILL BRING HAPPINESS

This is the first of a group of essays written by students of the Bristol high school by way of observing "National Education Week." The essay today is entitled "Developing Strong Bodies and Able Minds." By Emma Sharp, 10A

If everyone on this earth could have a strong body and an able mind, this, indeed, would be a world of happiness. A strong and healthy body would keep all hospitals empty. A person who has acquired an able mind, who knows the laws of safety, has common sense and intelligence, will never turn and go into the path of crime.

The development of a strong body and able mind should begin when the child is young. An able mind can be developed in school. Here he learns facts preparing him for adult life as a wage-earner and citizen. Some pupils are very good in school, but this does not mean everything in life. What is the use of a highly developed brain if one does not have a healthy body? A healthy body is of much importance even if a person is going to give his life to books and study. If he has put so much time in study that his body is not developed to a state of efficiency, in sports he will be the spectator instead of the participant. Also, because of his undeveloped stature, he can not stand long hikes or training for a specialized game.

On the other hand, an overdeveloped body and an underdeveloped mind is just as much a handicap. One cannot play a good game of football if he can't reason and think fast; he will be slow to catch on to trick plays and signals.

We can now say that a healthy body is dependent on an able mind and an able mind is dependent on a healthy body for real happiness.

On the other hand, the effects of an unhealthy body and an unable mind are obvious. A great percentage of the people in prison had little or no education. Their minds were not developed and they could see only the easy and quick way to the splendors of money. The road to success seemed long and difficult when going the honorable way. Their eyes could not visualize happiness and contentment at the end of the trail. Their bodies were under-developed, and couldn't take the blows of everyday life. Some of them turned to opiates, which lessened their physical ability and dimmed the reality of life.

If these people had followed the code of righteousness in body and mind, today we would have thousands of more useful citizens. Today, with all the temptations of evil, one indeed needs a healthy body and able mind to confront these obstacles.

SIX ARE INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS; ONE A HIT-AND-RUN

Thomas Fedde, Phila., Found Injured on the Bordentown Road, Saturday Night

ONE MAN LOSES FOOT

Andrew Brown, Eddington, Injured When Auto Hits Horse-Drawn Vehicle

The accident occurred at about 10:40 Saturday evening, on Bristol Pike at Cornwells Heights. Brown was guiding the horse. Both vehicles were travelling east on Bristol Pike.

AUTOMOBILE SHOWS

Years ago there were many who believed that the automobile industry had reached the limit of its development, that the motor car could not be improved in any important respect, that it possessed all conceivable refinements and that the imaginations of designers and resources of engineers had been exhausted. Now a car of that period of skepticism and unbelief has most of the characteristics of an antique.

Leaders of the automobile industry are occasionally described as "eternally dissatisfied." It is a characterization justified by the facts. They have not at any time been content to rest on their past laurels and to consider every horizon as having been attained. Because of this restless eagerness to blaze new trails, their industry has gone ahead constantly, even when the depression's grip held other industries hard and fast.

Now, throughout the country, the automobile of 1939 is being offered for the approval of a public whose interest in all that pertains to motor transportation never wanes. The new cars demonstrate again that this industry goes forward constantly to bigger and better things.

TO SAVE LIVES

Pneumonia takes approximately 100,000 lives in the United States every year. If experience bears out the preliminary tests, carried on with the aid of 30,000 CCC volunteers, the new antigen for immunization against pneumonia developed by the Public Health Service will halve this annual toll of deaths.

It is a relief to turn from the European news, with its rumors of war and preparations for war, to such news as this. Here is hope for the millions of us whose lives have been darkened by the threat of this mysteriously omnipresent malady, hanging over ourselves and our loved ones. Coupled with the serum for its treatment, also recently developed and already in successful use, the new antigen may relegate pneumonia to the list of diseases conquered or all but conquered.

Meanwhile the war news goes on and on. What a vast gap lies between humanity's progress in life-saving and life-prolonging through medical science, and its all but utter failure in the simple matter of learning to live together in peace and harmony.

Let us be thankful for our national troubles. The more we worry about them, the less we'll itch to meddle in the troubles of Europe.

A condition arises in Europe whereby it's unsafe to leave a small country overnight.

It's got so you can hardly tell civilized people from others except by the way their feet hurt.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol, April 12, 1877. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

At a stated meeting of the Bristol Woolen Mill Fire Brigade, held on Thursday evening, March 29th, the following officers were elected for the year 1877: Samuel Appleton, president; John Palmer, vice-president; H. C. Benders, secretary; Samuel S. Gilbert, assistant secretary; L. H. Willard, treasurer; W. Dougherty, foreman; H. Armstrong, assistant foreman; Trustees—L. M. Phillips, W. Appleton, Jr., Charles Smiley, C. Appleton, Sr., Frank Burley.

A great excitement was created on Sunday by the cry of "mad dog." Shortly after hearing the alarm a Gazette reporter saw a dog running at full speed down Mill street, pursued by a crowd of men and boys. The animal was shot at several times but finally escaped without any damage being done to him, although he did considerable execution during his progress, biting several dogs and a young man named William Allen. Dr. Groom cauterized Allen's wound and thinks there is little danger to be apprehended as the thick woolen clothing wiped off the virus from the teeth before they came in contact with the skin. The dog returned to Bristol on Monday morning and was shot at and wounded slightly by Thomas Stockham, while on the road between Tullytown and Bristol, but has since disappeared.

Dr. Griffith of Hulmeville has opened an office on Pond street, Bristol.

Joshua Peirce has begun the erection of a new house for Andrew Holt on Lafayette street, near Pond.

Rev. Franklin D. Harris, the first pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Bristol, occupied the pulpit of that church on last Sunday.

The tax rate for Bristol Borough has been fixed at 75 cents on the hundred dollars. It is expected that the borough expenses will be less than $8,000 the coming year.

A large tug boat now being built at the shipyard of Cramp & Son, Philadelphia, is to run between Bristol and Philadelphia, and take the place of the low boat "Delaware," which is to be taken off.

John Cattlow, the enterprising carpet manufacturer, has made another addition to his factory, and has added a steam engine to his works. He is doing a thriving trade, and the factory is run to its full capacity.

Dr. G. W. Kirk was taken sick while in Philadelphia last week and at one time was very dangerously ill. He recovered sufficiently to return to Bristol on Monday. During his indisposition Dr. Eugene Rink has charge of his practice. Dr. Rink resided here several years ago when his father was pastor of the Methodist Church.

The conference of Baptist ministers held in the Bristol Baptist Church, on Tuesday of this week, was attended by the following clergymen: Revs. N. B.

Baldwin, George Bowman, Joshua Phillips, S. V. Marsh, M. E. Cornwell, William Swinden.

The Methodist Sunday School purposes having an entertainment which is unique in its character. It will be known as a jug beating party. The object, of course, is to raise funds for the school, and this is the way it is to be done: Every person before being admitted to the entertainment, will be furnished with a small jug in which will be placed whatever amount of money the person is willing to give; the jug then is a passport, and admits its bearer to the exhibition, at the close of which the jugs are broken, and the money taken out.

PENN'S MANOR—Some of the fisheries began operations today, but cannot expect much success this early in the season.

A great many wild ducks have been seen lately. A flock of from 75 to 100 were swimming and diving in the river last Sunday.

A vessel loaded with an immense quantity of gun-powder, is lying below, White Hill.

NEWPORTVILLE—A new cigar and tobacco manufactory has been started by McEwen and Bennett, two young men.

Rev. Oscar R. Cook, the newly appointed Methodist minister, preached his first sermon in his new charge last Sunday.

20th Anniversary Of Armistice Is Marked

Were: Mrs. James Casey, Philadelphia, president of the Pennsylvania state Auxiliary, and Mr. Casey; Mrs. McGill, Eastern director of the state Auxiliary, and Mr. McGill; Mrs. Alice Everitt, Willow Grove, president of the Montgomery-Bucks Council of American Legion Auxiliaries; ninth district deputy commander, Caleb Cope, and Mrs. Cope, Morrisville; Leon Walt, past commander of the ninth district, and Mrs. Walt.

The affair of Saturday evening to which guests were welcomed by Mrs. George Morris, South Langhorne, president of the Soby Post Auxiliary, marked the 20th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, and was the 12th annual dinner.

After welcoming the guests, Mrs. Morris presented the Rev. Walter F. Humphrey, pastor of Langhorne Methodist Church, and chaplain of the Soby Post, who served as toastmaster.

A number of individuals addressed the gathering throughout the course of the dinner. Recently-elected commander of Soby Post, Richard A. Hopkins, Hulmeville, informed that last year the post reached the peak in membership, 96, and he expressed the hope that this year even that number will be surpassed.

Harry Friedrich, past commander, expressed his appreciation for co-operation of the post and auxiliary during his administration, and extended wishes for success for the new commander and the post and auxiliary in general.

To Mr. Friedrich a past commander's pin was presented by Roscoe L. Horn.

They Take Pride in Their Jobs

THAT girl at the switchboard... the man in the manhole... that husky fellow atop a pole... the young lady in the Telephone Business Office.

They're typical telephone men and women. And wherever you meet them and talk with them for a while, you'll notice these things:

A certain pride in the job they're doing. A feeling that it's part of an important service to the community and the nation. A desire to do the job the best they know how—and they do know how.

You'll notice, too, a strong sense of loyalty to their company and a sincere friendliness that has made "the voice with a smile" something more than a famous phrase. Perhaps all this is best summed up in another famous phrase—"the spirit of service."

All America knows what that means. It has been demonstrated in fire, flood and storm... and in your everyday telephone service, the finest in the world.

The more you use your telephone service, the more it is worth to you. Let it help you do your shopping, run your errands, speed up your business affairs and keep you in touch with friends and family everywhere.

Mutual understanding and cooperation between the people of this company and the people we serve are essential to the high quality and low cost of your telephone service.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL

The remarkable feature of "F. P. 1 Doesn't Answer," the Gaumont presentation of the new Erich Pommer production that opens today at the Bristol Theatre, is its utter novelty. The initials in the title mean "Floating Platform One," and denotes an island built in mid-Atlantic to serve as a transoceanic landing field. The producers of this picture have made a notable contribution to both realism and imagination by having this gigantic platform complete with every detail of comfort and efficiency.

This alone would suffice to establish the picture as an outstanding one. But with brilliant direction and fine performances, "F. P. 1 Doesn't Answer" becomes a film that simply must be seen. The story is an ingenious combination of romance and drama. It revolves around the efforts of criminal forces to annihilate the latest advance in science. It tells the tale of an aviator-hero who, realizing the hopelessness of his love for the pretty part-owner of the venture, gives her up to her chosen lover, and flies to effect the rescue of the platform and its hundreds of occupants.

GRAND

Everyone yells "They're off" and a couple of minutes later the race is over. But in the movies it's different.

At 20th Century-Fox they ran a single race for eight days and it was just beginning to get under way, with eleven more days to go.

The extended turf classic was staged for the Ritz Brothers' new starring comedy, Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," which opens Monday at the Grand Theatre. To get the proper racing atmosphere duplicates of real race track buildings were constructed on the set.

For two days three hundred extras and bit players had to be rehearsed to place and take bets, mill around the paddocks and fill the stands. When all the atmosphere was arranged to Director David Butler's satisfaction the cameramen were ready for the big race—and the Ritz Brothers.

Great Interest In Election Tomorrow

Secretary of Internal Affairs—William S. Livingston, Jr., Republican; Thomas A. Logue, Democrat.

Bucks County candidates include: Representative in Congress—Charles L. Gerlach, Republican; Oliver W. Frey, Democrat.

Senator in General Assembly—Howard I. James, Republican; Roger O. Mason, Democrat.

Representative in general assembly—Wilson L. Yeakel and Thomas B. Stockham, Republican; Paul V. Scheetz and John G. Blesdale, Democrat.

The polls tomorrow will be open from seven o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening. Tomorrow, residents of Bristol and by these tax reductions and Township will go to the polls for the first time since the Township has been divided into six election districts.

The polling places will be located at the following places:

East—First District: Headley Manor Fire House.

East—Second District: Axel Swain's Store.

West—First District: Newportville Fire Station.

West—Second District: Gaw Mansion.

Lower—First District: Croydon Fire Station.

Lower—Second District: Tryon's.

The Bucks County Republican Committee issued a statement which is signed by a group of well-known men and women throughout the county, endorsing the Republican ticket. The statement reads:

"Pennsylvania will elect a Governor, a senator, the entire membership of its congressional delegation and its legislature, and other important state officials.

"The Republican party has nominated sane, patriotic, American-minded candidates as its standard bearers.

"The election is nationally significant. On it will be concentrated the entire power of a party that holds all the national offices, all the state offices, most of the local offices; that has multiplied the number of jobholders beyond anything ever known; a party that has had the spending of more of the taxpayer's money than all its predecessors in office over a century and a half put together; a party that has excelled every other in the practice of demagoguery, and that regards the preservation of its control over Pennsylvania as fundamental to its retention of power over the country.

"We are sure you must be keenly aware of, and deeply concerned by those things which the administrations at Harrisburg and Washington are doing, which so adversely affect the lives of a large part of the people of Pennsylvania.

"The 'New Deal' has produced disruption of business... an unemployment as great as five years ago, despite the expenditure of unbelievable billions... waste beyond precedent... a tax burden such as America never saw before... Democracy in process of replacement by Dictatorship... class prejudice and hatred fostered by the highest officers of Government... local self-government all but wrecked... millions of voters subsidized, under all sorts of pretexts... the Government blatantly competing in all varieties of business with the very citizens who are compelled to pay for the competition which is destroying their livelihoods. And, as a special dispensation to Pennsylvania, business that has furnished employment to thousands of our citizens being driven out of the State by excessive taxation, misgovernment and nitwit legislation.

"What can a Republican Administration at Harrisburg do to correct these evils? The Republican program will be: To wring the waste, extravagance and graft out of the administration; pass the savings along as tax reductions; and by these tax reductions and by a less punitive attitude towards business, get the wheels of industry turning again and provide jobs for the unemployed. Through renewed employment lower the relief burden and by lowered relief costs, further reduce taxation, spreading the tax burden over a larger number of persons by new and resumed business operations. The Republican program goes still farther. It includes the humanizing of relief—the divorcing of relief from politics, and still more than that, the Republican program will rip out the crop of fear, misery and despair which the Earle-Guffey band has sowed so thick across the length and breadth of Pennsylvania.

"The whole Nation is watching the contest in Pennsylvania intently. On the result here will depend the restoration of enthusiastic Republicanism, which will be so necessary in 1940. A defeat now probably will mean defeat and then, a victory now will do much to insure victory then.

"The man or woman who thinks of what his election means, who reflects on the great good to be obtained and the dangers of defeat, will put influence and personal effort into the cause to the real limit of his and her capacity.

"We urge you to let nothing interfere with attending the election on November 8th next and cast your ballot for the whole Republican ticket."

BRIDGEPORT WINS OVER BRISTOL HIGH BY SCORE OF 14 TO 7

Cardinal and Gray Smashes
Opponents' Goal Line To Score First Touchdown

FAIL TO KEEP LEAD

Defeat Ended the Three-Game
Winning Streak of the Bristol Boys

BRIDGEPORT, Nov. 7.—The Cardinal and Gray lads of Bristol High smashed their opponents' goal line record for the third consecutive week when they scored on Bridgeport, here, Saturday afternoon, to chalk up the first touchdown of the season scored against the Dragons.

However, the Cards failed to maintain their first period advantage, and with the Dragons coming from behind to count a six-point in each of the second and third chapters, the Maroon and White outfit scored a 14-7 decision over the visitors from Bucks County.

The defeat ended the three-game winning streak Coach Steve Juenger's boys recorded in the past few weeks. At the same time, the Dragons extended their winning ways to a trio of games.

A strong wind blowing eastward up the field hampered both teams in the art of punting and passing. It was while Bristol and Bridgeport were defending the last goal that all three touchdowns were counted, resulting from poor punts that led to the opposition chalking up a six-point.

BENSALEM LOSES TO MORRISVILLE ELEVEN

Offer Strong Opposition To Morrisville Despite Defensive Weakness

FINAL SCORE IS 22 TO 7

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 7.—In spite of their deensive weakness, a scrappy Bensalem High eleven offered a much bigger and heavier Morrisville outfit quite a bit of opposition before they were finally subdued by the invaders, here, Saturday afternoon, 22-7, in a Lower Bucks Conference battle.

And although the Bulldogs ran roughshod through the Owls' line for the amazing total of 352 yards, the home club knuckled down in the pinch to push the Bulldogs back no less than three times after the Golden Wave boys penetrated beyond the Owls' 10-yard line, making a first down within the ten on two of those occasions.

But while Morrisville was running wild on the ground, their aerial attack, although not needed then, failed on all six occasions when they attempted to gain through the zone. One of them was intercepted, one was grounded on an extra point attempt, and three were grounded in the end zone.

At the same time, Bensalem could gain only 64 yards through the Bulldogs' line; but they gained a total of 131 yards via the air route, a medium by which they completed six out of 16 passes for an average of approximately 22 yards on a single aerial. However, Morrisville doubled up on Bensalem on first downs, making 16 to 8 or the Owls.

St. Ann's and Andalusia Play Scoreless Game

failed and seven more yards were lost. On the fourth down, Tosti heaved an aerial to Calone which was blocked on the one-yard line. Thus ended the only real scoring threat of the afternoon.

But it did not stop the thrills from coming. Later in the third session, Smith broke off on a reverse play and raced 35 yards before being dropped on the Andalusia 20, but the play was recalled as a St. Ann's player was offside. In the final period, Tosti got off on the right side lines and had marked off 25 yards before being brought to the turf.

Captain Trummer of Andalusia gave his fans a thrill and the St. Ann's followers a little heart-tugging in the last minute of play. St. Ann's was in possession of the ball, Evans went back to toss a pass. It was blocked and went into the air, right into the arms of Trummer who saw nothing but the goal posts ahead of him. The soggy field prevented the Andalusia captain from getting a start, and before he could go, Evans took a wild lunge at him and succeeded in bringing him down.

Swartz and Robertson made some decisive gains for the Big Green. Robertson got off on a 25-yard run in the second period and was stopped by the safety man. Junghanns and Lange played good ball defensively or the Andalusians. For St. Ann's, Evans, Smith and Joe Conti starred in the backfield, with Gullatto, Profy, Kornstedt and Tunis doing good work in the line.

The game was wonderfully officiated from start to finish, and it was the best officiating the St. Ann's team has encountered this season.

Improvements to telephone lines in the Newtown area are planned by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. It has been announced by J. Howard Reiff, manager.

New storm-proof aerial cable, sections of which will contain over 1,000 separate wires, will extend 3½ miles toward Washington Crossing, eliminating 178 miles of open wire in that section, while four miles of new all-weather cable will be built on the route to Wycombe.

In making plans for these improved lines, engineers of the Bell Company have provided reasonable facilities for a continued growth in this area. The project will represent an expenditure of nearly $20,000 and the work will be under the supervision of Charles G. Simmers, district construction foreman.

ATTENTION VOTERS OF BUCKS COUNTY

WHAT DEMOCRATS SAID ABOUT DEMOCRATS DURING THE PRIMARY ELECTION CAMPAIGN

The Record of the Democratic Party is Disclosed by Its Own Leaders

Said United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey

"Not only are party bullies attempting to intimidate State employees, but they are stooping to the most despicable practices in their futile attempts to win votes."

"A good many years ago we had the infamous Capitol graft scandal. Five suicides and nine jail sentences resulted from that mess. What the outcome of the present contract situation will be I don't know."

Said Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, Sister of Senator Guffey

"Governor Earle promised to reduce the price of milk one cent to the customer. Instead, it has been raised to four cents. Consumers are paying more for their milk and farmers are getting less. Governor Earle promised to raise the income to the farmer one cent. Instead, he has reduced it."

Said former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti

"The bosses control the law-making body. Before they would permit their men to vote on certain legislation they demanded and received cold cash—corrupt cash that went into their pockets. The men I refer to control Charles Alvin Jones (Democratic nominee for Governor)."

Margiotti also said Matt McCloskey and Democratic State Chairman Lawrence demanded $1,200,000 in "kickbacks" from architects assigned to State Authority projects, and that the Democratic leadership has been a disgrace, and impregnated with corruption and dishonesty."

Mayor Wilson said:

"It was Contractor Boss Matt McCloskey himself, who boasted that he (McCloskey) had loaned Governor Earle $30,000.

"This contractor boss (McCloskey) has his puppets as candidates. Two of them are Jones and Earle. Playboy Earle does not have any of the qualifications for high public office. He did not prepare his own inaugural address nor any of his manuscript speeches and he is not at all familiar with the governmental structure. On one occasion during his campaign for Governor, four years ago, he inquired of me how soon after his inauguration he could name a new Supreme Court for Pennsylvania."

Judge Ralph H. Smith, of Allegheny County

the Guffey-Lewis candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor, said:

"When Governor Earle was talking about disloyalty, he was not talking about disloyalty to Democratic principles, but disloyalty to David L. Lawrence, Matthew H. McCloskey, Jack Kelly and that GROUP OF POLITICAL HIGHBINDERS who have taken control of the party and intend to operate it as a holding company in the interests of a special few."

Eddie McCloskey, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, said:

"If Earle is nominated, the whole fight will be to defend him for many things—especially the slur he gave the veterans when trying to defeat Judge Rosen, a World War Veteran of the highest type. The veterans will always remember that remark of Earle's."

The Philadelphia Record, the Mouth-piece of the Democratic Party, in an editorial open letter to Governor Earle, said:

"Matt McCloskey—affable Matt first took you in. Now he thinks he has taken you over. You still have a last chance to be yourself. The great challenge facing you, Governor, is the fact that you permitted this man (McCloskey) to become dominant in the party—long after he made it clear that he was in politics for profit. The only way for you to make amends to the public is for you to demand that McCloskey surrender his State contracts." Did Governor Earle make that demand from McCloskey—he did not.

McCloskey hand-picked Charles Alvin Jones the Democratic nominee for Governor, and the Philadelphia Record in an editorial stated that Matt McCloskey said, at a meeting at which John L. Lewis was present, held in a Washington, D. C., hotel, in describing his plan for a Puppet Governor—"I'll guarantee that the Governor (Jones) won't let a contract or make a single appointment between meetings of a board of directors consisting of half a dozen Democrats and labor leaders."

Margiotti called Earle a seeker after whitewash—Earle called Margiotti a liar—Senator Guffey called Earle an exploiter of State employees—Earle called Guffey a micer of Federal employees—John B. Kelly called Guffey a mud-slinger—Guffey called Kelly a political conspirator—Kelly called David Stern a dictator—Stern called Earle a sure-loser.

Kelly called Guffey a coarcer of relief workers—Hopkins called Kelly a liar—Margiotti called Bashore a seller of beer bills—Bashore called Margiotti a falsifier—Guffey called the Earle campaign scurrilous—Kelly called John L. Lewis a dictator—Margiotti called Lawrence the chief mogul of the spoils system. Jim Farley calls the whole gang "my friends," and Earl Browder, Communist leader, calls them all his "pals."

and remember

Governor Earle would not permit a Grand Jury to investigate the charges of graft, theft and dishonesty, but inaugurated a "white-wash" Legislative investigation which purposely is being dragged along so no report will be available until after the election.

HOW CAN ANY SELF-RESPECTING CITIZEN SUPPORT A PARTY WHOSE LEADERS, SOONER OR LATER, MAY HAVE TO ANSWER IN SOME COURT ALLEGED CHARGES OF FRAUD, GRAFT AND DISHONESTY HURLED AT THEM BY THEIR FELLOW DEMOCRATS?

Pennsylvania will elect in November, a Governor, a U. S. Senator, the entire membership of its Congressional delegation, a new legislature, and other important state officials.

Few elections have ever been more important than this one will be to our distressed State in this critical time in its history.

With the Earle-Lawrence Machine in control at Harrisburg, in deadly factional warfare over spoils of office; with disclosures of irregularities of a shocking character in the conduct of the same, it behooves the electors of Bucks County to give earnest and intelligent consideration to the persons seeking election to the various National and State offices at the Election on November 8th, next.

The Republican party has nominated honest, patriotic, American-minded candidates as its standard bearers, competent, fearless and courageous, against whom there isn't the slightest breath of scandal, vice or corruption.

THESE CANDIDATES BELIEVE IN

1. The policies of the Republican party as developed in the past seventy-five years, which policies reflected in legislation, have made us the greatest nation on earth, and our State, when undisturbed, a reservoir for opportunity for labor, for agriculture and for business.
2. Retention of business and industry in Pennsylvania with attendant expansion to relieve unemployment and assure labor constant work at good wages; open markets for the farmer and promotion of individual initiative.
3. Efficiency and economy in Government, instead of waste and extravagance.
4. Constructive legislation instead of costly experiments that "spawn oppressive taxation."
5. Reaffirmation of the principle of local Government and "restoration of the sovereignty of our State."
6. Providing ample relief for the unemployed, needy mothers, the aged and the blind and taking administration of relief from the field of politics.

VOTE FOR

And the Whole Republican Ticket

And Smash the Democratic Earle-Lawrence Machine which in Four Years in Harrisburg Has Doubled Taxes, Decreased Employment by Driving Industry Elsewhere and Prostituted State Governmental Functions to Political Purposes.
